NORTHBROOK, ILL. – Liventus, Inc., based in Northbrook, Ill., is expanding operations with a new office in Bangalore, India, an important global information technology center, in an effort to augment the efficiency and effectiveness of the business solutions provided to U.S. clients.

The new office — set to open June 1, 2013 — will give Liventus the additional manpower and leverage necessary to increase turnaround of its top-tier services and provide 24/7 worldwide coverage to clients and partners. Supreeth Bhat, Managing Director at Liventus, will lead a team of seasoned managers in establishing operations and training new staff members.

“The Bangalore office will allow Liventus access to a more experienced and talented pool of IT professionals and additional resources in the IT industry. Liventus India will provide support, maintenance and continued development of ecommerce solutions built in-house at Liventus, Inc.,” says Mr. Bhat.

The management team involved with the Bangalore office has a proven record of success in ecommerce solutions, business solution programming and business process automation. Additionally, they are knowledgeable of both the United States and Indian cultures, allowing them to bridge cultural and operational gaps with their technological expertise.

“Liventus India will have the distinct advantage of being led by several experienced IT Project Managers that grew up and were educated in India, and plan to move back to Bangalore this summer. Opening an office in India has been in our plans for several years and we are excited about the value that the new office and its managers can add to our company,” says Sam Oliva, CEO of Liventus.

“We are extremely excited to be only weeks away from achieving our long time goal of expanding into the Bangalore India area. The exceptionally talented and experienced managers that will be running this new office will bring over 25 years of industry expertise. This new office will expand our pool of extremely qualified and knowledgeable IT professionals to continue and expand upon our current growth trends in business solutions and application development,” says Brett Giza, Director of Ecommerce Strategy at Liventus.
